

Improving The Initial Training And Certification Of Dynamic Positioning Operators

Author: Ian C. Giddings, The Nautical Institute

Abstract

In 1984 after consultation with industry and other interested parties a dynamic positioning operator's training scheme was introduced to ensure that new entrants to this section of the maritime industry received some training. In the intervening 20 years significant changes, and hopefully improvements, have been made to the scheme.

Click below to:

Review the complete paper

Review the presentation

Return to the session directory